

Michael R. Wick, Ph.D.

Current Position: Provost and Dean of Faculty, St. Mary's College of Maryland

Michael serves as the Chief Academic Officer of the College. Michael is responsible for the academic program, faculty appointment and reappointment, promotion and tenure, and implementing the faculty bylaws. Michael works closely with faculty and faculty governance bodies, engaging faculty actively on key academic and curricular issues and decisions and ensuring appropriate consultation on other key institutional decisions.

Experience:

Michael has over 25 years of experience in higher education as a faculty member, leader, and academic administrator. Michael has published nearly 60 scholarly articles on topics including artificial intelligence, expert systems, computer science education, and higher education administration and leadership. Michael has also received numerous commercial and federal grants in support of his research and teaching. Michael has served as a faculty member, department chair, director of first year experience, associate vice chancellor, and provost.

Education:

Ph.D., Computer Science, University of Minnesota, 1989

M.S., Computer Science, University of Minnesota, 1986

B.S., Computer Science and Mathematics, University of Wisconsin – Eau Claire, 1984

Professional Affiliations and Accomplishments:

Member, Omicron Delta Kappa

Member, Association of American Colleges & Universities (AAC&U)

Member, American Association of University Professors

Participant, Access to Success in America, The Education Trust